In Costly Love, Armstrong acknowledges the importance of doctrine and theological discussion in the church, but he urges Christians to focus first on whether we are following Jesus's™ new commandment: to love as he loved. Our actions of love will begin to bring us closer to unity with one another and with God.

The way the church got its start was another sad example of Christians violating Jesus's command to love one another. A youth pastor at a Baptist church started seeing a number of young hippies come to Christ, so he started bringing them to church.

Lesson 74: Loving as Jesus Loved (John 13:31-38) | Bible.org

John Armstrong makes a case for costly love or "God-Love" to permeate the modern church so that Jesus' prayer for unity will become a reality. This will happen as more believers understand that the new covenant "binds love and obedience together in Jesus Christ" (p.215).
