Thanks for sharing your story, and kudos for organizing yourself and having all this health information on hand. It sounds like you have become the "health information exchange" for all your mother's doctors; I imagine it's burdensome for you, but I'm sure this has been good for your mother's health and care coordination.

Tools for caregivers: Keeping & Organizing Medical Information

An accountable care organization (ACO) is a healthcare organization that ties payments to quality metrics and the cost of care. ACOs in the United States are formed from a group of coordinated health-care practitioners. They use alternative payment models, normally, capitation. The organization is accountable to patients and third-party payers for the quality, appropriateness and efficiency of ...

The cost of cancer care may be a concern if you or family member has been diagnosed with cancer. Because bills and debt can add up quickly, people may want to seek financial help soon after being diagnosed with cancer. Oncology social workers, case managers, doctors, and oncology nurses can help or provide referrals to support services and financial resources.
